Polished Natural Petrified Wood
Contract Suitable As Is

Crafted thousands of years ago by Mother Nature herself, these rare petrified wood pieces are a testament to the wonders and idiosyncrasies of nature. Created through an organic process of heat and pressure, the dazzling array of colors and textures comes from the differences in woods and elements that are infused while the petrifying process is in effect. This ensures that each piece will be truly unique in almost every way. Stack together for a distinct and organic tabletop or shelf accent.
